DIGHTON-REHOBOTH REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL
Massachusetts
Volume I

Dedication

To you, the citizens of Dighton and Rehoboth, who have made this Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School possible, we, the Class of 1961, dedicate this yearbook, the AURORA.

It was only through your keen awareness of the needs of your youth, and of your community and nation, that this school became a dream; and only through your determination and self-sacrifice that it has become a reality.

May we, who are to be graduated, and those who will follow be steadfastly faithful to this enduring example of vision and determination.

Foreword

"Only that dawn to which we are awake. There is more day to dawn. The sun is but a morning star" . . . Thoreau.

Aurora—Goddess of Dawn—your name is aptly given, for this book recalls in picture and word the beginning of a new day for the students of Dighton and Rehoboth, who have come together from, in many cases, vastly different backgrounds but who have labored in the realization that what they have in common far outweighs their differences.

This has, indeed, been the dawn of a new day. But heed! As Thoreau has written, there is yet more of this day to dawn. But dawn it will to those only who are awake to their opportunities.

Congratulations to you as members of the first graduating class of the Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School. You have been instrumental in establishing standards and traditions for those who will follow.

Students from the towns of Dighton and Rehoboth attending school as members of the same class is not new. Many members of your families attended class together in the old Dighton High School. The Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School is evidence of the fine spirit of cooperation among the voters of each town. They have tried to give you, the students, the best educational facilities available.

We wish you continued success in your new endeavor and urge you always to keep in mind the high ideals of good citizenship you have helped to establish here.

Sincerely,

Members of the Regional Committee

TO THE CLASS OF 1961:

It has been said many times that first impressions are lasting impressions. May you remember as you leave Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School that, despite the fact that you have attended for only one year, you represent the first graduating class. It is our hope that you will, through your deeds, lay a smooth foundation for the road that future classes will follow.

I extend best wishes and remind you that a happy heart is as essential to personal success as is a serious mind.

Robert T. Roy
Superintendent of Schools

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1961

The primary responsibility that is placed on the shoulders of a group that does something for the first time is leadership. You, as a member of our first graduating class, are charged with the same responsibility. You must lead the way by blazing trails that our future graduates will be proud to follow.

I wish you every success and the best of luck on your chosen trail.

Sincerely,

Joseph C. Harrington

MR. PRESIDENT

The president of a class which is composed of people who've spent three years at other schools is bound to have problems. And Charlie did. But Charles D. Harris gained our confidence right from the start when we elected him Class President, and through the year he proved himself equal to the task. Industrious, organizing, he had unfailing faith in the class and a pride in his school. His ability to work with the administration and for the class at the same time was cause for admiration by all. Charlie, it can be said without reservation that the first graduating class of Dighton-Rehoboth had at its head a fine leader.

History of the Class of 1961

After several years of discussion and preliminary planning, the voters of Dighton and Rehoboth appropriated in August of 1959 some $2 million for the construction of a new regional school. Construction on the school was begun shortly thereafter.

The first meeting of the whole class of 1961 took place late in June of last year at Dighton High School. The occasion was a period of testing, getting acquainted, and electing a summer student council. Those elected were Bob Catlow, Carolyn DeMattos, Judy Mathewson, Carl Munroe, Nancy Bindon, Ernie Carpenter, Barbara Gomes, Charlie Harris, and George Lavigne.

The members of the Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School class of 1961 were brought together at the beginning of this school year, after having spent the first three of their secondary school years at Attleboro High, Joseph Case High, East Providence High, and Dighton High, which failed to open its doors for the first time in 25 years.

All of the Dighton and Berkley members of the class had gone to Dighton, where Ernie Carpenter was President for all three years, while the Rehoboth students had journeyed to each of the other three schools.

When we arrived at our spanking new—but unfinished—school in the fall, we immediately pitched in with the activity. First thing on the docket was the election of class officers. Charlie Harris was elected President; Carl Munroe, Vice-President; Carolyn DeMattos, Secretary; and Carl Stonstrom, Treasurer.

To the football team, which ended with three wins and four defeats, we placed co-captains Merrill Pidgeon and Charlie Roderiques in addition to Ernie Carpenter, Bob Catlow, Lee Cottam, Roger Duarte, Jim Dunne, Bob Farrar, Charlie Harris, Dick Lamoureux, George Lavigne, Carl Stonstrom, Bill Wheeler, and Jack Witt. At the end of the year, "Pidge" and Charlie Roderiques were selected to the All-Tri County League team.

In the winter months we contributed greatly to a basketball team which won seven out of 16 games. We had captain and All-Narry choice Roger Duarte, Ernie Carpenter, Jim Heywood, Charlie Roderiques, Jim Sherrington, Carl Stonstrom, and Bill Wheeler.

They were cheered to great heights by our cheerleaders: Captain Betsy Broadbent, Barbara Gomes, and Holly North.

The girls' basketball team was led by Nancy Bindon and Mary Fernandez.

In December we enjoyed the Christmas Dance and in February we were delighted by the Mardi Gras. Ernie Carpenter was elected king and Judy Mathewson was chosen queen.

As spring approached, we were busier than ever.

The baseball team, which won seven and lost as many, was captained by Ernie Carpenter and Carl Stonstrom. Also on the squad were Bob Catlow, Mariano Chaves, Roger Duarte, Jim Sherrington, and Bill Wheeler.

The track team, whose record was very successful, was respresented by us with co-captains Charlie Harris and Merrill Pidgeon, as well as Ernie Carpenter, our only four sport man, Tim Costa, Dick Lamoureux, Jim Sherrington, and Jack Witt.

During May our main task was the preparation of the play, entitled "Curtain Going Up." It played to a sellout audience in the auditorium. Pam Green, Judy Mathewson, Dennis Tiberiis, Holly North, Steve Foxwell, Don Rodenhaven, Larry Baldwin, Judi DeMello, Carl Munroe, and Roger Duarte were the main players in the hilarious comedy.

Also in May, eleven of our number were inducted into the National Honor Society. They were Larry Baldwin, Nancy Bindon, Roger Duarte, Margaret Duckworth, Bob Farrar, Jim Marsden, Carol Mello, Mary Sargent, Karen Taylor, Dennis Tiberiis, and Alice Waterman.

Then June arrived, and with it came Class Day, the Senior Prom, and much too soon, Graduation.

Class Song 1961

We ventured here from far and near to join our hearts and minds this year.

As friendships grew, our School did too,
'neath banner of emerald and golden hue.

Sing, sing our class song this day before we part and drift away.

Sing, sing, let our voices rise on golden wings up to the skies.

Search the world and you'll never find such friends and memories brought to mind.

We're going forward into a place –
a world with problems we'll have to face.

Fear not, for we'll hit our mark,
though paths we follow may 'times be dark.

Fear not, for we'll seldom fail,
our goals are high and will long prevail.

Class Prophecy

The time is May 5, 1986—the 25th anniversary of astronaut Alan Shepard's flight into space. The scene is the launching site at Cape Canaveral. Our hero, Jim "Speed" Marsden, is waiting tensely in anticipation of being the first man to rocket to other planets and back to Earth again. Here comes Speed now, all bundled up in his aluminized, pressurized space suit, which of course, is equipped with all the essential items—including a built-in record player and a Mickey Mouse wrist watch. Speed spots for a last look around before entering his compartment in the rocket ship . . . looks a little . . . scared? No, no, there's a look of confidence on his face . . . there, he's in the ship. Now for the countdown . . . 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 Blast off. Speed is on his way!!

Here is a transcript of the recording made by Speed on his momentous journey. First, he stops on the moon . . .

"Whew . . . here I am, first man on the moon. Sorta deserted . . . lotta craters. Well, outside I go. Gee, really an empty place . . . What—what was that movement? Hey . . . looks like another man! Why . . . why aren't you Manny Santos, one of my old Dighton-Rehoboth classmates?"

"Yes . . . and aren't you Jim Marsden?"

"Right you are. But, uh . . . look . . . how—how did you get up here, what are you doing here?"

"Remember our yearbook autograph party? Well, Dr. Dennis Tiberiis took us all into the science lab where he was testing his new rocket fuel. Then Dennis laughed—you know the way he does—and lit a match. There was a big BOOM and the whole class was blown into space. If you travel around the planets, Speed, you'll see some of our other classmates."

"Well, Manny, just what can you tell me about our old friends?"

"I've heard that Merrill Pidgeon, John Pires and Charlie Rose are now known as the Stardusters and have a smash hit called 'Blue Cheese' on the Way Out label. I know that Ruth-Ann Ryan and Alice Waterman are head nurses at the Sanatorium for sane people. Sandy Ribeiro was crowned Little Miss Sunbeam last week. Let's see . . . oh, yes. Mary Sargent and Nellie Mitchell are cheerleaders for the Rocketeers."

"The Rocketeers?"

"Yes, those Lunar Champion ping pong players, Helena Sojka and Dot Torres. Remember Pat Schutter? Well, she and Kay Terwilliger are testing barbells for Mr. Universe, who is none other than Ray Silvia. You know Leland Cottam and Peter Knox? They are starring in the Twilight Zone now. And get this—remember Helen Shaw? Well, Dave Silvia finally said "yes." Brian Kinney was best man. I hear that the three of them are farming on the moon somewhere—doing very well raising moonbeams. That's all I can tell you, Speed. Nice seeing you."

"So long, old buddy. I'm off to Pluto now" . . . WHOOSH . . . "Ah, there's Pluto on my screen . . . start applying retroactive slowdown procedure. Easy . . . not a bad landing—next time I'll try to make it right side up. Oh, well. As I walk from the ship there seems to be someone coming to welcome me. It looks like Carl Stomstrom . . . "

"Hello, Speed. How's the boy?"

"Oh, okay. Just saw Manny on the moon . . . quite a jolt. Do you have news of any '61 grads?"

"Sure do. What say if we save your fuel and take a trip on one of Alice and Dot Reed's Roaring Rockers?"

"Good action. Let's go."

"Craig Waterman and Lenod Camarara are their leading pilots, you know. And their chief mechanics are Charlid Rodriques and Julie Souza. Here we go, Speed. Now, over there is Kenny Abrams erecting space signs built by Richie Rose and Vernon McNeil. Look, Dennis Santos' barber shop. He's done so well he's hired hula girls Doris Schultz, Audrey Lortie, and Pam Smith to entertain customers. By the way, I heard that Nancy Wanamaker married that interplanetary gambler, Oslo Bett. Now they call her Nancy Wannamaker Bett."

"Really. Say, Carl, isn't that Jimmy Sherrington who just roared by in the ship with the twin pipes?"

"Yes, it is. He's test pilot for Karen Taylor's misguided missile plant. Remember Joe Pimento? He now has an eternal job —blowing Gabriel's horn. I heard the other day also that scientist Joe Martin made an important discovery—he finally found out were the yellow went. Well, Jim, we're settling down now. Hope to see you again sometime. Take it slow, man."

"Yeah . . . you too, Carl. I'll be going now . . . Bye, Carl old man."

WHOOSH . . . "I am now rapidly approaching Mars. I can't get used to these speedy approaches . . . it's the sudden stop that bothers me." CRUNCH . . . "Yes, I'll have to improve on the stops, all right. I'm walking up to a large mound now . . . like a little house. Yes, here's a door. And who should answer my knock but Donna Russell!! Hi, Donna."

"Well, hello, Speed Marsden! What are you doing here?"

"I'm on a trip to all the planets. But what about you?"

"Oh, after Dennis lit that match at our yearbook party I found myself on Mars. Have a seat and I'll tell you of some of our classmates. Help yourself to a Mars Bar."

"Thank you. Mmmmmm."

"Incidentally, Linda Alburn is the one who puts the nuts on those candy bars. Do you remember what an actor Larry Baldwin used to be? Well, now he writes plays, has a hit titled 'Green Cheese on the Rocks.' Pat Amarillo is the leading lady. Talkative Bernie Desautels is general of the Martian Foreign Legion—has lots of shiny badges now. You know how Louie Benevides made such a good business manager at the school? He organized the U-Pay-Or-Else Collection Agency here and was so efficient he made a pile, hired Roland La-Page as personal bodyguard. Carol Andrews is his private secretary, I think. Let's see now, I believe that Jane Boler left Mars . . . Yes, you remember how she used to wear her skirts so short? Well, she's trying to raise the hemlines on Venus."

"Mmmmm . . . not bad candy. Oh, tell me more, Donna."

"I suppose you recall how Betsey Broadbent was head cheerleader? She's now on the moon, training promising cheerleaders . . . claims they get more bounce to the ounce there."

"Of course . . . do continue, if you will."

"Carolyn DeMattos has a chain of Skyway Markets—she took over where her father left off. Judy Kimmell is her ace salesman for Milky Ways these days. Poor Manny Borges never did settle on one planet; he waves to us as he passes by. I hear he wishes he could get back to Earth—has dozens of questions to ask Mr. Dias."

"Hmmm. Any other news on your mind?"

"Let me see now . . . Nancy Bindon is manager of the Mercury Globetrotters, with Kathy Anderson as star center forward. You remember how quiet Myrtle Abrams used to be? Well, in her petitioning for women's suffrage here on Mars, she's been arrested three times for starting riots! Gee, I guess that's about all I can tell you, Speed. If you go to the other planets, you're bound to run into more old acquaintances, and if you do, drop me a line about it, will you?"

"Sure, I'll send you a little space-o-gram . . . when they start making them. I thank you for this pleasant visit, Donna; maybe I can return sometime. Goodbye now."

VA-WOOSHHH . . . "Here comes Venus . . . and say, looks like a reception committee. I'll bring 'er down right close to the group. Bunch of smiling creatures out there . . . right down close—uhuh, not quite that close—watch out there, little feller! My afterburner . . . tsk, tsk—barbecued. Got to be more careful. As I get out of the ship luckily I see a friend . . . Karen Taylor!"

"Well, if it isn't Speed Marsden!"
"Hi, Karen . . . and isn't that Larry Baldwin coming over?"

"Hello there, Speed. Yes indeed, I am Larry B."

"I just dropped in to say hello, folks. Say, uh, the natives seem a little restless here . . . Couldn't we move along to your house or whatever you have here?"

"Sure can. Just come with Larry and me. You know, we just arrived last week from Saturn, and were we surprised to learn that some of our classmates had started a love colony here. The leader and winner of the Lover of the Year Award was none other than Roger Duarte. Jimmy Dunne was runner-up for the prize, and was heard to moan 'Oh, I'm out of it!' "

"The other day, Speed, we went to the famous Venus night spot, Rainbow's End, where we found Carol Dorr as hostess. The entertainment began with a scantily clad singer, who was—believe it or not—Margaret Duckworth."

"Really! Then what, Karen?"

"Then the chorus line appeared, among which we noticed Barbara DeMerritt, Judy DeMello, and Mariano Chaves. After, when we were trying to get backstage to see our friends, we ran into the club's strongarm man, Timmy Costa. Tell Speed about what happened later, Larry."

"Well, after a night on the town one of our members had to be hospitalized. While going to visit him we bumped into Carolyn Dow and Nancy Cummings, who were on their way to participate in nurses' band and chorus activities."

"Sounds like a way-out group . . . Karen?"

"Yesterday we visited career girl Betty Cottrell at her private office—and there was Lee Cottam as her secretary. And guess who is the desk clerk at our hotel—Joyce Cunha."

"So you see, Speed, many of our former classmates are really pioneering."

"I can very well see that. Just a bunch of pioneers up here. I think it's time I was leaving now. Don't remember exactly where I'm supposed to stop next, but I'm sure to find some place."

VAROOOOM . . . "Guess I'll stop in at Mercury. I can't imagine who I'll bump into next. There . . . not a bad landing. Starting to get the hang of it. As I leave my ship I spy someone approaching . . . it looks like—it is—Gerri Leger. Hello, Gerri!"

"So who are y—why, it can't be Speed Marsden!"

"It is, I assure you. I'm going around to all the planets, you know. Been running into quite a few of the kids up here."

"Yes, when Dennis lit that match he sort of got us all scattered. Sit down and I'll tell you of some of the kids. I saw Jane Niefadlik and Ronnie Lemieux looking very sad—they're trying to find a way to get back to visit East Providence High. Linda Lorrenz is Chief Pretzel Bender at the local pretzel factory. I heard that Cookie Mathewson has that starry-eyed look—finally found her dream lover."

"Who might that be?"

"I'm not sure, but I think he drives a low slung, red sports ship. Richie Medeiros hasn't changed—last time I saw him he was following a hot tip about some far out Venusian space girls. Richie Lamoreoux is now starring in the Mercury movie version of Tarzan, and I think he's let the role go to his head. I've seen him chasing his mate Carol Jones from star to star. The last thing I heard, Steve Kelly got himself jailed for disturbing the peace. It seems he got a little violent when he discovered the authorities here never heard of St. Patrick and certainly would not plan any such holiday. By the way, have you seen the new Harrington Associates of Mercury building?"

"No, can't say that I have."

"It is really spectacular. And John King has an important position there. He's the only one small enough to get into all the corners to sweep up the star dust."

"Is that right? Well, this has been an informative talk, but I've got to go now. Au revoir and all that sort of stuff."

"Bye."

Class Prophecy

ZOOOOOM . . . "Now to the largest of planets—Jupiter. Landing's O.K., opps, I mean A-OK. Why, what do you know—a great big planet like Jupiter and I happen to land right next to another D-R alumnus. Looks like Carl Munroe. Hi! What do you say?"

"Hi, Speedy Jim. I see you finally made it, in your specially designed rocket ship."

"Yeah, and I'm supposed to be the first one. That's a laugh. What can you tell me about kids from the old school?"

"You remember Holly North?"

"Yes, indeed."

"She's very happy here on Jupiter. It might be because these seven-foot natives called her 'Shorty' on her first day here. The other day I saw Carol Mello studying her MM Book. I understand she is running for President of the Mickey Mars Club. George Lavigne and Sue Carey, I was told, were the first ones to set up a saloon—I mean salon—on the sun, and are famous for their quick tan treatments."

"Oh, you remember Pete O'Connor—during an eclipse, with the world in total darkness, he sent a secret message to Sally Higgins: 'Wish you were here'."

"Cheap way to get out of paying the phone bill."

"You know, the Falcon World Wins just beat the New York Yankees. Ernie Carpenter was hitting star with 10 bunt meteors, Bob Catlow, ace pitcher, threw three perfect orbits while striking out one batter. You remember Horace Carpenter?"

"How could I ever forget Horace?"

"Well, as manager he was quoted as saying that with one less pitcher and a brand new team they could go places. And then there's Richie Chappell—he got into quite an argument with the Jupiter government. Claimed that because he came here against his will he should not be required to pay taxes. He is standing on his rights! Nedra Charlonne is recording talking records to drown out space jive."

"If anybody can do that, Nedra can."

"Robert O'Hara is importing motorcycles and they're selling briskly—Jupiterians think they're some sort of cute pets. Well, I must be getting along now, Speed. See you."

"Okay, Carl. So long."

WHOOSH . . . "Coming in to my last stop now—Neptune. Yes, and here's someone heading towards me. Cameron Place!"

"Say, it's Jim Marsden, isn't it?"

"Just call me Speed, Cam."

"That's novel. Gee, I haven't seen you since Dennis got dangerous."

"Well, this is my last stop on my jaunt around the Solar System. I'm low on food and fuel. Can I refuel and restock somewhere here?"

"Sure, follow me. You can stop at a branch of Mary Fernandes' Combo Stores, Inc. Has groceries and Shoppers' World in one building."

"Hey, Cam, isn't that Joan Zollo in that dress shop window?"

"Yes, she and Hildegarde Eckenbrecht own that store. Though the sign says Dress Shop they only sell pants to the women. That haberdashery next to it is run by Gerry Guertin. He's staging a campaign to get the men out of the kitchen and into pants again."

"You don't say. Is there a post office here? Have a few cards to mail."

"Right this way."

"Why—that's Steve Foxwell's picture on that wanted poster!"

"Yes. First time Steve's been wanted by anybody and he can't show his face. The Neptunian Treasury Dept. didn't appreciate his attempt to alter the design of a batch of Neptunian dollar bills. Over there is Eleanor Fournier's shop. She gives Poodle cuts to dogs. Want reading material? Here are some magazines. Bob Farrar is editor of Universal Playboy, you know. Did you hear that Lorna Goff is writing a novel based on her experiences. It's called Life Among the Giants."

"Say, Cam, what's this business? Sign says 'Marriage Brokers, Inc.'."

"Oh, you remember Pam Green. She had such a successful marriage she's trying to sell the idea to others. Now, here's a can of something I want you to try."

"Neptunian Frog Legs??"

"Yes, they're a real delicacy. Bill Wheeler and Jack Witt were caught in a swamp here, and had nothing for food but thousands of croaking frogs. They found the legs to be delicious fried, and later set up their own frog leg company. Made a million. Even now they still check out each shipment themselves. Guess they've got an eye for legs. Now, Speed, for fuel you can go there. Jimmy Heywood married into Gomes Gas Stations and now has stations across the universe. If you're interested in a little sports job type of rocket ship, see Bob Hopkins. He runs a good agency."

"I don't think so. Got to keep on my schedule. Been nice seeing you, Cam. Good-bye now."

KA-ZOOOMMMM . . . "Ah, back to Mother Earth."

This ends Speed's recording, but not the story. Back at Cape Cavaneral, Dr. of Space Medicine C. D. Harris, had the spacenaut brought in by his assistant Alan Bacon for examination. Speed kept interrupting the Doctor's routine questions, tried to tell him about meeting all his former classmates. When he finally got his story out, the Doctor shook his head and called for orderlies to take the obviously overstrained man away. "Tsk, tsk," Dr. Harris commented. "Granted it was a long, lonely journey—but to go off his rocker like that! Tsk, tsk."

The Class Will

We, the class of 1961, the first graduating class of Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School, being completely unstable—after a year of mixed emotions—and unlimited knowledge, do hereby bequeath to the under-populated, underprivileged, but not to under-estimated, underclassmen, the following gifts in the hope that they can find for them a use—we never could.

Lorna Goff wills her height to any oversized Junior, who could like to get into small places.

Julius Souza will his mechanical ability to Leo Bilodeau.

Ray Silvia leaves for California—and leaves Jimmy Amaral his girls.

Helen Shaw wills her "eager eater" appetite to Larry Violette.

Robert Hopkins wills his ability for "quick take-off's to Rehoboth for anyone with a small car.

To Mr. Dias, Manuel Borges leaves his ridiculous questions in Physics to give to any Junior not able to ask their own.

Lenod Camara leaves his quiet ways to Larry Abrams.

Nancy Wanamaker wills her B.U. parties to Kay Murray.

Marion Poniatawski wills her oral book reports in Mr. Marcotte's English class to some unfortunate Junior.

Dotty Torres leaves her oscillating walk to anyone who can control it while exiting from the front door.

Carl Stonstrom leaves his streakless painting to all of Mr. Marcille's advanced students.

Allen Bacon leaves his ability to master French to Donat Roy.

Richard Lamoreaux leaves his shirt and tie to Gary Bennett.

Charles Rose wills his knack to go uptown for parts to Craig Stevens.

Robert O'Hara wills his unwillingness to get along with teachers to Cliff Dias.

Holly North bequeaths her big, fluffy slippers and her skunk (including his tail) to George Wolfenden.

Linda Lorenz leaves her gym suit to anybody who will wash it. Are there any volunteers, Mr. Marcotte?

Brian Kinney wills his corner seat in B8 to any unfortunate soul who has the chance to occupy it.

Donna Russell leaves her admiration for a certain History teacher to Helen Powe.

Jim Marsden leaves the editorship of the "Regional Review" to some poor soul. Happy Deadlines!!!

Susan Cary and Carol Jones leave their ability to sew and cook like pros to Miss Rouleau.

Richard Rose leaves his trips to C7 to any Voc. high boy who has a girlfriend there.

Kenneth Abrams wills his mice to Jim Ameral and hopes they will grow up to be rats.

Pat Amarillo leaves her position as Treasurer of the Business Bees to anyone that can handle money.

Nancy Bindon leaves Cala Bajn to Mr. Texeira with Best Wishes.

Nellie Mitchell leaves some of her extra pounds to Helen Powe.

Earnie Carpenter leaves his ability to be chosen "King of the Mardi Gras" to any Junior who's worthy of the honor.

Jerry Gurtin leaves his sweater collection to the last of the Berkley boys.

Doris Schultz wills her good times in the lunchroom to Lynn Vangilder.

Carl Monroe leaves his expert knowledge and butterfingers to George Wolfenden.

Hildegarde Eckebrecht wills her fattening pizza to anyone that needs them.

Pamela Green leaves her lunchtime carrots to Roger Rabbit.

Stephen Foxwell leaves his long eyelashes to any girl in the Junior class that is in need of them.

Larry Baldwin leaves the Senior Prom bathing pool to Miss Unsworth and Mr. Marcotte who, for next year's One Act Play Festival, will conduct a water-ballet.

Richard Chappell wills his ability to understand Mr. Wonatowski in Trig class to anyone who wants it.

Margaret Duckworth wills all of her History tests, quizzes, notes, and answers to certain Juniors who can use them to the best advantage.

Judy Kimmell leaves her "love" for 7th period C.O.P. class with Mrs. Kennedy to all unfortunate future office workers.

Gerri Leger gleefully leaves her office of Vice-President of the Clunker Club to any competent and willing Junior girl.

Jim Sherrington leaves his ability to produce late passes to any Junior boy; with a girl who has good handwriting.

Eleanor Fournier wills her unbelievably graceful trampoline ability to Carolyn Calisto.

Jimmie Dunn leaves a king size bottle of aspirins to Mrs. Smith for all her headaches of this year and for future years' headaches.

Alice Reed wills the good times she's had this year to Sandy Wood.

Mannie Santos leaves his 600 sit-ups to Miss Unsworth.

George Lavigne wills to any unfortunate Junior his complicated love life.

Roland Lepage leaves his height to any Junior who could use a few feet.

Mrs. Smith leaves a casket to the "die hards" from P.E.

Horace Carpenter leaves all the wrong notes to anyone who can make music out of them.

Judi DeMello and Sandi Riberio leave their "flat tires" to anyone who is unfortunate enough to have one.

The Class Will

Carolyn DeMattos wills her many nights after school to any junior willing to take over.

Myrtle Abrams wills her quietness to Sandra Wood.

Cameron Place wills his love for Trig to anyone who is fortunate enough to have Mr. Wontkowski.

Carolyn Dow and Roger Duarte mutually bequeath their unfaltering co-operation, affectionate understanding, and interminable friendship to any Junior boy and girl whom Fate has chosen to have their names fall so auspiciously in alphabetical order.

Carol Andrews leaves Mr. Texeira to next year's Senior POD class (don't talk about J.F.K. and the Democrats).

Jane Boler and Carol Dorr leave their everlasting conversation in shorthand class to two Junior girls.

Louis Benevides leaves his money problems to future all-around business managers.

Joe Pimento leaves his flirtatious ways to Mike Petit.

Kathy Anderson leaves all her oral book reviews and vocabulary tests to Mr. Marcotte. You're welcome!

Nancy Cummings leaves the role of Lady Macbeth to any future Senior girl.

Barbara Gomes leaves her ability to be escorted to every class for four years with the same boy to any fickle Junior girl.

John Pires leaves his ability in woodshop to Brian Reid.

Judith Mathewson wills her "A" in advanced under-water basket weaving class to Roger Paulson.

Carol Mello leaves her fourth year Latin book to any Roman Junior.

Joe Martin leaves his P.O.D. marks to some brainy Junior.

Mary Sargent leaves her "A" in College Physics to any Senior Physics student who needs it.

Mary Fernandes leaves her recording of "Oh, What a Loverly Way to Spend an Evening" to Mr. Texeira.

John King leaves his ability to get into small places to Tony Perry.

Dennis Tiberiss wills his presidency of the Student Council to the next director of D.R. High. Good Luck, Bob!

Patti Schutter leaves her restless seat in Geometry class to an unsuspecting Junior.

Ruth-Ann Ryan leaves future episodes with a certain German teacher to Cynthia Clayton.

Bill Wheeler leaves regretting that a certain Junior girl didn't leave with him.

Dorothy Reed wills her quietness to Barbara Willet.

Mariano Chaves leaves his marks in English to Albert Pontes.

Richard Medeirios wills his ability to date out of town girls to Norman Andrews.

Sandy Higgins leaves her good times at D.R. to any deserving Junior.

David Sylia leaves Helen Shaw to Ralph.

Charlie Harris leaves the distinction of being the first Senior Class President at D.R. High to next year's president. Happy headaches!!!

Audrey Lortie wills her baggy gym suit to anyone brave enough to wear it.

Nedra Charlonne leaves her membership in the Clunkers' Club to Jackie Carvalho.

Karen Taylor is just leaving!

Bob "Porthos" Farrar, Jim "Aramis" Marsden, and Bernie "D'Artagnan" Desautels will the memories of their escapades in French III to Madame Ring.

Betty Cottrell and Betsy Broadbent leave their daily walks in the corridor that they lost to some Junior smarter than they are.

Linda Alburn leaves her tremendous extemporaneous oral report in science to Mr. Marcotte's English class; this was mostly a silent report.

Jane Niejadlik and Ronald Lemieux leave—but not for P.E.

Vernon McNeil leaves nothing to anyone who can claim it.

Mr. Grover's Seniors leave him a can of Raid for those flies and mosquitoes so he won't have to use his pointer anymore.

Mrs. Kennedy's classes leave her an extra large bottle of plant food and wish her luck with next year's plants.

The Seniors leave Mrs. Dewsnap a set of heavy-duty ear plugs to block out the woes and wants of next year's Seniors.

The "Curtain Going Up" players leave Mr. Marcotte their sympathy and best wishes for a successful Senior play next year.

Somebody leaves Mr. Delaney with a perplexing problem, of finding out who sent a certain Senior boy all those cards . . .

The Seniors leave Mr. Lussier a billy club and a badge for those lunch periods.

The Yearbook Staff leaves Mrs. Smith with the worry of getting the Aurora out on time.

The Senior Class leaves Mr. Harrington best of luck with next year's "triangles."

The rest and residue of the Senior Class who are not already mentioned in the above testament, were either too stingy or have nothing of value to leave, leave!

To the rest of the teachers and administrators we leave a bottle of strong sleeping pills. Have a happy vacation!!!

I extend my heartiest congratulations and best wishes to the first graduating class of the Dighton-Rehoboth Regional Vocational High School. The spirit of enthusiasm you have shown in your classrooms and shops has won the commendation of all your teachers.

Remember—Be true to your ideals that are so important to you on your pathway to success. This institution will always be ready to help and aid you in any way it can.

I shall always carry with me very fond memories of a very wonderful group of boys. Goodbye, good luck and God Bless You.

The first football team of the Dighton-Rehoboth Regional High School had a fairly successful season, winning three games while losing four. The team competed in the Tri-County League, where they finished in 4th place.

The highlight of the season was the opening game in which the "Falcons" trampled the Barnstable High School team, 38-0. During the second game after a slow start, the team rallied in the second half and defeated Lawrence High School of Falmouth, 20-12. The following week the DR team was stunned by a fired-up Case team, coming out on the short end of a 12-6 score. After holding the strong Somerset team 11-0 in the first half, the fighting "Falcons" tired and lost, 20-0. In their next two outings the "Falcons" lost to Dennis-Yarmouth, winner of Class D division, 14-12; and Wareham, winner of Tri-County League, 9-0. The "Falcons" ended their season on a successful note, defeating Bourne, 20-0.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

The first home basketball game to be played in our sparkling new gymnasium was a hard-fought but losing effort by our girls against Dominican Academy of Fall River. Ten games later it was apparent this inauspicious beginning had been an unhappy but true portent of the future. Unable to break into the win column this season, our girls nevertheless played a steadily improving brand of ball with increased spirit demonstrated in each game.

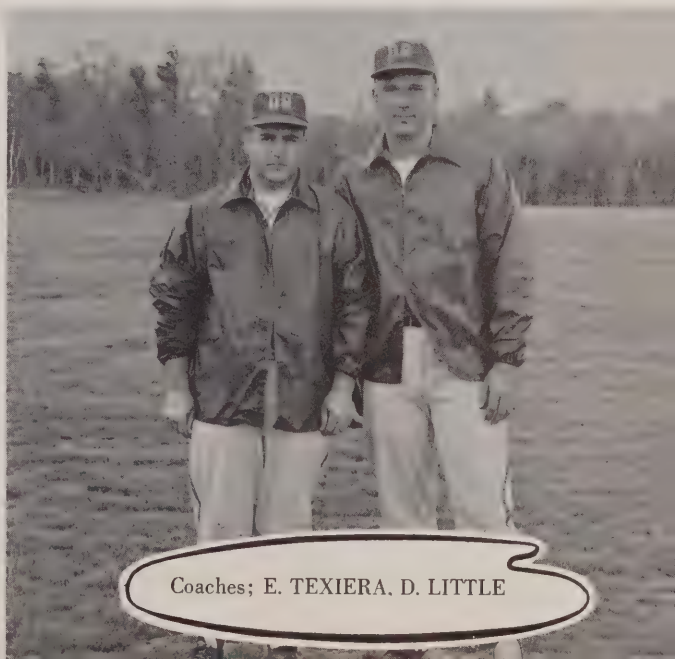
The D-R Falcons' baseball team, playing as a member of the Narragansett League, seemed to be on its way to a banner year, but a poor second half season spoiled what might have been the first championship team in the short history of the school. The Falcons were paced by Roger Duarte, James Sherrington, Bill Wheeler, Mariano Chaves, Carl Munroe, all seniors, and George Wolfenden, Norman Arnold, and Duncan Laidlaw, all juniors.

At a meeting of the squad at mid-season, Carl Stronstrom and Ernie Carpenter were chosen as co-captains of this first baseball unit. (The wiseness of their teammates' choices was demonstrated many times during the season.)



Coaches; E. TEXIERA, D. LITTLE

Fun. exercise. and class competition sparked our intramural program this year. Under the direction of the Girls' Athletic Association officers tournaments were conducted in volleyball and softball. In future years the program will be expanded to include basketball and also individual activities. such as badminton, tennis, and gymnastics. The coveted intramural plaque was awarded to the class of 1963 in recognition of their outstanding participation.

Girls' Athletic Association Officers

Hard work is the keynote of this service group. Its members are assigned extra physical education classes in which they act as assistants to the instructor. Through the efforts of the Leaders Club the entire physical education program for girls operates with increased efficiency and benefit to all.

Girls' Leaders Club

Girls' Varsity Softball

Excellent pitching and good hitting combined to give our girls' team a most successful first season, with a third place finish in the Bristol County Girls' League.
